Mrs. L. Aylmer, after spending a few weeks here with Mrs. Sarah Baines, returned to her home in Santa Cruz last Thursday.

The last ball of the season at El Verano Villa last Saturday evening was a great success. The attendance was large both from this place and Sonoma and other nearby towns.

Walter Poulson was in Santa Rosa last Saturday and Sunday, being interested in the Republican newspaper voting contest. Miss Vincent, his sister-in-law, received the largest number of votes in her district, winning a fine graphophone.

A special meeting of the El Verano public school trustees was held last Friday evening. The meeting was called for the purpose of investigating a complaint filed by the parents of one of the pupils, who charged that principal Kemp had unnecessarily detained the boy after school hours, one day last week. The trustees, after hearing the charges, exonerated Mr. Kemp.

John R. Algren spent Sunday in the metropolis.

John Serres Sr. was called to the city Monday on business.

A large crowd from here will attend the Catholic fair in Sonoma Saturday night.

Miss Elsie Langraf, a popular young lady of San Francisco, visited friends here Sunday.

Everybody mostly here went quail shooting Tuesday. Of course they all got the limit to hear them tell it.

S. J. Gregory, station agent for the S. P. Company at Kenwood, has been canned for reporting a train twenty minutes late.

Louis Martin and wife of San Francisco are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. John Rayband. They expect to locate here permanently.

Billy Reidy, manager of the Seals of San Francisco, looked over Boyes Springs recently with a view of selecting it as the training quarters for his ball team next season.

Billy Block of Vineburg was in town Sunday. Easy Jim, it is rumored here that you are soon to lose your Willie. A little San Francisco girl is the lucky one and the wedding bells are soon to ring.

L. E. Grimm, wife and family motored to this place Saturday from Oakland to spend the day at their beautiful bungalow in the western foothills. Mr. Grimm is a prosperous real estate man of his city and has many friends here.

The many readers of the Index-Tribune were loud in their praise for the manner in which Miss Ramona Granice, the editor's 17-year-old daughter, conducted the paper last week during the absence of her father, who was hunting in Mendocino county.

L. Mouyer, our popular deputy constable, lost a valuable dray horse the latter part of last week. The animal became suddenly ill near the L. L. Lewis ranch and toppled over, breaking a leg. The animal was shot to put it out of its misery.

A meeting was called at El Verano Villa last Monday evening to discuss the proposition of incorporating this town. A large number of both men and women were present and took part in the discussion. Another rousing meeting is called for Thursday evening, October 24. It is now almost certain that incorporation will be decided upon by our people to thwart the scheming, trouble-breeding Prohibitionists.

Louis Parente, a well-known fight promoter of San Francisco, accompanied by his brother, Jos. Parente, was in town Sunday. The former was loud in his talk for his white hope, Charley Miller. He informed the writer he had clinched a match with Luther McCarthy, who knocked out Al Kaufman in San Francisco last Saturday in two rounds. Louie and his boxer will then leave for the East, where Miller will be pitted against the crack Eastern heavyweights over the six-round route.

The Expositor, in an editorial of last week, goes on to tell that on account of the poor roads in this valley the automobile traffic is very light. Now, who ever is writing these articles is certainly way off. It is rumored here they are being written in Santa Rosa. However that may be, we would advise the wise guy who penned the screed to take a trip down this way and seat himself in front of one of our roadhouses and count the number of automobiles that pass daily between this town and Agua Caliente. If there is a knock for Sonoma Valley you'll surely see it in the Expositor.

ARCHIBALD MCKIVER.
El Verano, Oct. 16, 1912.

Sidelights on the Proposed Anti-Road House Ordinance.

BY CHAS. SPINDLER.

The story "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" came back to my mind some time ago when I passed the Cosmopolitan Saloon in Los Angeles. Passed, I say, because I prefer to go thirsty before I would enter such a joint.

Under date of January 25th, 1912, J. K. Bigelow published a long letter by himself in his own paper, "The Expositor." In this letter he stated that he, as representative of the local Chamber of Commerce, took some nice pictures of Sonoma Valley to Los Angeles. Whether these pictures included a view of the sand and gravel beds in Sonoma river, which he guarded as Maxwell's watch-dog, he did not state, but judging from his attack on road-houses and resorts and particularly one, which has done the most to beautify the valley, I take it for granted that the ugly view of the river-bed was on the front page.

At any rate, with some accompanying convincing arguments the other gentlemen on that special train undoubtedly agreed with J. K. that Sonoma Valley is fit to go dry. But like Dr. Jekyll, who with his panacea transformed himself into Mr. Hyde, so J. K. B. changed himself into Guy B. and leaving the pictures or picture books behind and forgetting his J. K. nature and dry mission altogether, goes collecting rent on his saloon property located between The Plaza and Arcadia Street, in Los Angeles, one of the most unsightly joints I ever passed by.

Before coming back, Guy B. (Mr. Hyde) takes a dose of that Dr. Jekyll anti-panacea and appears in our midst again as Dr. Jekyll, eyes heavenward and fully satisfied with the results of distributing those famous pictures.

The transformation from a hard drinker into an anti-saloon man, next anti-roadhouse man and finally to a prohibitionist, requires no Dr. Jekyll panacea, same as changing from a lawyer to a chicken-raiser and egg-producer. This happens under natural laws which I will explain later.

But the two-faced nature of that Big-and-low guy can be well observed in politics. He goes to candidate Weise, dictating as Dr. Jekyll and when calling on the other candidate, Lowell, he is Mr. Hyde. What he desires of candidate Weise, he thinks he can best achieve with threatening. With candidate Lowell he uses persuasion, and possibly has to come up with some hard cash for financing Lowell's campaign. Anything at all as long as he can gain his end.

He had so much to say and published in his Expositor about the character of resort-owners and their past that a libel suit was the outcome, but he thinks that he alone knows the secret that he personally owned property in the former San Francisco tenderloin, used as Chinese dives. Still the records, filed in the County Clerk's office in San Francisco, under No. 8921, are in existence to prove the above and were not within that set of picture books taken by him to Los Angeles and left in the car to be thrown out on the rubbish pile by the porter.

His education as a lawyer, not sufficient though to make an honest dollar with it, enables him at least to reason with himself in about this way: "I failed to dry up the Valley and County of Sonoma under the anti-saloon flag at one stroke, I therefore have to strike twice viz: with the new Anti-Roadhouse Ordinance, kill the small ones and next spring at a special election, the then driven out small fry will help vote the big ones out of existence."

Very proper reasoning and the only sufferer is the taxpayer under the one-sided Willey Local Option Law. This law says that whenever a community or district goes dry, it stays dry for two years, but if it goes wet the dry zealots and hypocrites can call another, and still another special election, as there is no limit to the number of such special elections. That the tax-paying community is thereby robbed of thousands of dollars which should be used for better roads, etc., in consequence of so-called dry orators fanatical speakers, is easy to understand, but neither the whiskey trust, nor its ally J. K. B., in this anti-roadhouse fight pay the cost of these special elections.

Royal A. Cabell, Internal Revenue Commissioner of the U. S., no doubt the best authority of all, when visiting San Francisco on his tour of inspection a fortnight ago stated that there is more whiskey stored in Kentucky to-day than ever before, notwithstanding it is a dry state by law. There are 168,000,000 gallons of whiskey in bond in Kentucky today. It seems, he further stated, that when a territory goes dry the consumption of whiskey is increased, while the sale of beer and wine diminishes. The distillers, he assumes, would like to see the whole country go dry, as that would give them a monopoly of the manufacture of intoxicating beverages. It appears, he said, that in dry territory whiskey, being the smallest bulk, with the greatest alcoholic contents is more easily handled than beer and wine. A bottle of whiskey contains many more drinks than a bottle of beer, hence the preference.

What the Internal Revenue Commissioner stated in San Francisco in Mr. Muentzer's office was not new to me, having had the chance to observe the results of dry voting either on Local Option or State-wide Prohibition for years. In fact since 1907, when the Whiskey Trust got under new management and in conjunction with some world improvers, started the late drunkard production campaign, I have been in nearly every state of the Union and claim that I know more about this matter than my neighbor can learn before he dies. But it is gratifying when an official authority like Cabell, who is occupying the highest chair in the Internal Revenue office, comes out flat-footed with such a statement, without attaching any strings whatsoever.

Fortunately for the whole inhibition of the U. S., the clouds have passed over the mountains westward and in two years from now the tail-end of that threatening storm will drop into the Pacific. Less votes will be cast for the candidate for president of the U. S. on the Prohibition Party ticket in the whole U. S. than in 1908, and I offer to bet my neighbor an even hundred on this claim. Possibly the same amount, or a few more votes, may be cast for him in California, over which the tail end of the drunkard-producing wave is hovering. But in eastern states people have come back to their senses and have found out that where ever a saloon is closed a blind pig takes its place without revenue to the community, and that with no license some drinking may be stopped but more drunkards are created.

Four years ago the State of Ohio was on the verge of going dry, state wide. Now the people have recovered from that nightmare and are voting on a new constitution, which legalizes licensing the sale of liquor, and the section or article governing the control is liberal and agreeable. The number of licenses is fixed by law and the character of the owner must be good; also, the stipulation that no brewer can invest any money in a saloon, or own or control it, is praiseworthy. What is missing yet to make it ideal is an anti-treating paragraph. It is similar in most of the other states that went partially dry two and four years ago on account of that drunkard-producing pest called temperance wave.

Off and on there is a flicker of that dying-out lamp. For instance, at a meeting of army surgeons less than a month ago a Colonel-doctor stated that alcohol is absolutely not necessary for the private soldier. No doubt he meant as long as he can get it in the shape of champagne or highballs. Authorities on medicine have come to other conclusions and while the Colonel-doctor believes that the standard of strength in a soldier can be maintained with water, real authorities claim that much drinking of water produces waterlogged tissues and weakens the heart of the working man. They also agree that a small amount of alcohol will help the stomach digest and assimilate water and other liquid foods.

I positively would not engage a man for hard manual labor such as plowing, etc., who tells me that he is a water-bird, but for such light work as feeding chickens, killing lice, collecting eggs and throwing dead chickens into the creek it matters little whether the laborer gets a glass of wine or water with his meals. Whether Bigelow's Japanese coolies drink water or sake is neither here nor there and the wise provision in the Willey law, that nobody can buy less than two gallons, will even stop them from abusing his hospitality.

In fact the Willey law, as well as the proposed new anti-roadhouse Ordinance, are made and meant for the poor man only, not for the wealthy man, who can keep anything he desires in his ice chest at home and can well afford to buy in two-gallon lots.

That is LIBERTY in the eyes of the rich and wealthy, who consider themselves above the law anyway. If only the laborer and the poor class are prevented from spending a nickel or a dime for a refreshment, God's blessing must come to Bigelow and his cronies. That the wisely-governed poor man must invest in two gallons of fire-water in order to get a stimulant, and that he is driven to abusing a good thing, having that two-gallon demijohn with him instead of a pony glass, these fanatics cannot see.

Two years ago when Utah's citizens voted under their Local Option law the town of Provo went dry. One of the Mormon elders who had worked hard to get Provo into this condition went to Salt Lake City on a recreation trip to strengthen his worn-out nerves, similar to J. K. B., who disappeared for some weeks after the last election. Said Mormon elder done quite some shopping while in Salt Lake City, and between others shipped home a box marked "Type-Writer - Handle Carefully." On the morning of his home-coming he was called to the phone and the Wells-Fargo agent told him: "Mr. Dillingworth, I have a box here for you marked 'typewriter,' you better come and get it quick—it's leaking badly—spilled all over the floor."

We have had seventy years of experience with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. This makes us have great confidence in it for coughs, colds, bronchitis, weak throats, and weak lungs. We want you to have confidence in it, as well. Ask your own doctor what experience he has had with it. He knows. Keep in close touch with him.

One of Ayer's Pills at bedtime will cause an increased flow of bile and produce a gentle laxative effect the day following. Formula on each box. Show it to your doctor. He will understand at a glance. Dose, one pill at bedtime, just one.

CATHOLIC CHURCH FAIR.

The Fair in aid of St. Francis Church commenced on Thursday evening and is in full swing. It was opened by the sweet music of the Sonoma Valley Band, whose members so kindly donated their services.

Union Hall is like fairyland this week. One booth vies with the other and all of them are so tastefully decorated that it is hard to say which is the prettiest.

On every table there is a superabundance of fancy, practical and most valuable articles. A short and sweet entertainment will be given every evening by local and San Francisco talent. There will also be dancing with the best of music. Judging from the large crowd on Thursday evening there is every indication that the people of Sonoma Valley appreciate the good work of the ladies who worked so energetically. The fair will close on Monday evening.

The various booths are presided over by Mrs. Frank Koenig, Miss Kearney, Mrs. M. R. Taylor, Mrs. Jerickee and Mrs. Campbell, assisted by all the pretty young ladies of this valley.

Blair Hart the People's Choice for Supervisor.

Blair Hart, incumbent, is again before the people of the First Supervisorial district for re-election as their Supervisor. He is being supported on all sides by people regardless of politics. And why should it not be so? He has made one of the best and fairest Supervisors this district has ever had and will be re-elected without the pre-empture of a doubt, the Prohibitionists and their ilk to the contrary notwithstanding.

A Diabolical Crime.

The attempted assassination of Theodore Roosevelt by a crank in Milwaukee last Monday was a most heinous offense and has shocked the entire civilized world. That the Colonel escaped death is a miracle. As it was, he was seriously wounded but will recover. It was a most damnable crime and one that was wholly unjustifiable.

The apple shows of Northern California have almost made the orange take a back seat. The apple is a staple, splendid fruit and the success of its culture in this part of the state has attracted world-wide attention. The spirit of the Sebastopol boosters has proven a fine example for Watsonville and other localities, which seek to exploit their agricultural excellence.

Housework Drudgery!

Housework is drudgery for the weak woman. She brushes, dusts and scrubs, or is on her feet all day attending to the many details of the household, her back aching, her temples throbbing, nerves quivering under the stress of pain, possibly dizzy feelings. Sometimes rest in bed is not refreshing, because the poor tired nerves do not permit of refreshing sleep. The real need of weak, nervous women is satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and as Mrs. Briggs and others testify:

It Makes Weak Women Strong and Sick Women Well.

This "Prescription" removes the cause of women's weaknesses, heals inflammation and ulceration. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces restful sleep.

Dr. Pierce is perfectly willing to let everyone know what his "Favorite Prescription" contains, a complete list of ingredients on the bottle-wrapper. Do not let any druggist persuade you that his unknown composition is "just as good" in order that he may make a bigger profit.

Mrs. Brazier, of 220 N. Washington St., Delphos, Ohio, writes: "Having taken your 'Favorite Prescription' for a bad case of intestinal disease and constipation with woman's bile, for which I was almost unable to do anything, I think I am safe in saying that there are no remedies in the world like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Purifying Lotion Tablets.' I am now enjoying the best of health, and thank Dr. Pierce for his wonderful medicine which has done me a world of good."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate liver and bowels.

FIRST YEAR VOTERS

They Should Vote With Republican Party.

It Has Stood for Progressive Policies Within Safe Lines and Has Given the Country Unexampled Prosperity.

Between three and four million young men in the United States will this year cast their first vote. Every one of them should vote for President Taft and the Republican party.

In choosing his political affiliation the first voter should thoroughly study the platforms, principles and records of the great political parties, before allying himself with either. If he goes into the record of facts impartially, he cannot escape the conviction that his choice must be with the Republican party. From Lincoln to Taft, with one single exception, every president of the United States has accepted the inspiring Republican doctrine. The Republican party preserved the Union, abolished slavery, freed Cuba, rescued the Philippines and Porto Rico from three centuries of Spanish tyranny, secured the open door of trade in China and is building the Panama Canal—making the old world dream of centuries come true and readjusting the world's highways of commerce. In addition to all this, its beneficent policies and wise administration have resulted in the progress of the nation, with commercial development and national wealth reaching a point almost beyond imagination.

Democrats Are Destructive.

On the other hand, the first voter will find that the Democratic party has always been an obstructive and destructive party instead of constructive; that when in power it has always brought disaster to the country not only because of its incapacity and incompetence, but also because it has invariably destroyed manufacturing interests by attempting to foist free trade upon the American people. It has always been on the wrong side of everything, and if it could have had its way would have destroyed the credit of the nation with the free coinage of silver. In the last Democratic administration the national debt increased and distrust and panic paralyzed the great industrial system of the country. The value of farm products decreased $500,000,000; banks closed, business firms failed; factories were silent and three million able-bodied men were begging for work. These things happened during the short administration of the Democratic party, which has done nothing for progress, nothing for the cause of liberty and freedom, and nothing for the glory of our common country, for more than half a century.

Republican Party Will Live.

The first voter will not be received by the attack now made upon the Republican party by men who are smarting under the sting of disappointed ambition. This is not the first year in which the Republican party has been subjected to similar experiences. There was the bolt of the Liberal Republicans to Horace Greeley in 1872, the defections in the early 90's to the Farmers' Alliance, Greenback and Populist parties and the withdrawal of the Silver Republicans in 1896. Republican presidents—Lincoln, Grant and McKinley—have been contended with the vilest abuse by their contemporaries just as President Taft is assailed today. But the Republican party has survived all these experiences just as it will survive the present attempt to bring about its destruction.

The men who left the Republican party in the past have gone down to political oblivion. Those who have remained with the Republican party have, on the contrary, proudly participated in its great achievements. The Republican party offers to the first voter the splendid record of its past and the glorious promise of its future.

Notes

The Mission Garage, agents for the Indian Motorcycle, has just received word from the Hendee Manufacturing Co., that it has made many radical changes in Indians for 1913. Watch out! Our announcement containing these changes, together with the great surprise, "The Price," will soon be made.

The Hudson automobile for a lady to drive is just the thing. Starts by simply pressing a button. The Hudson six-cylinder car is conceded by experts to be the fastest thing on wheels. The stock touring car will do eighty miles an hour. Some people will say this is altogether too fast, but power means speed. The other extreme of speed is four miles an hour on the high gear. To show the flexibility of the motor the car will from a standing start get a speed of 60 miles an hour in 30 seconds. What other motor will do this without choking? This car to responsible people we will take care for three years. Before buying a car see the Mission Garage they can save you money.
